

Department of Emergency Medicine,
Max Healthcare presents

MASTERS IN EMERGENCY MEDICINE

(INTERNATIONAL)

In association with
GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC, USA

ACADEMIC SESSION 2021-2024

The Ronald Reagan Institute of Emergency Medicine at The George Washington University Medical Center (USA) has collaborated with partners in India to implement Master's in Emergency Medicine (International) training program. The programs consist of a three year curriculum that will be divided into 36 clinical modules that will cover the breadth of emergency medicine. Faculty from the Reagan Institute travel periodically to the training centers to provide direct supervision and teaching. At the successful conclusion of the program, the graduating residents will be certified to work within the emergency department of small and large hospitals.

Course Commencement: 1st July 2021

Eligibility: MBBS (Recognized by MCI) (BLS, ACLS, PALS, FCCS & ATLS certified candidates are given preference)

Course Duration: 3 years

Forms available on the website: <https://forms.gle/4QHM2WKun3WFCiGD7>

Selection will be based on Combined Entrance Test (CET) and Interview

For more information, download the brochure: www.maxhealthcare.in

MEM 2021-2024
Registration Link

For more information, please contact:

Dr. Vanita Mittal | M: +91-9810 595 053 | E-mail: Vanita.Mittal@maxhealthcare.com

Note: This program is for upskilling of doctors and is not recognized by MCI.